

Change a Lifetime Create a Lifelong Connection!

National Foster Care Month
California Capitol Event

North Steps of the Capitol
Tuesday, May 3, 2005
11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

More than 76,000 children are in foster care in California today – all of who need stable, loving and permanent homes. To help launch National Foster Care Month, organizations statewide are coming together to highlight successful new ways for helping foster youth attain lifelong connections. Four teams will be honored for their exemplary efforts. Honorees will include current and former foster youth who are at the center of these efforts and the family members, county caseworkers, staff and private agencies that work with them to ensure stable and loving futures.

Join us for this special Capitol event and learn how you too might change the lifetime of a young person. You might just discover the lifetime that's changed is your own.
